Dear [Redacted]

STAT

It is a distinct pleasure for me to express my personal thanks, and the thanks of the faculty and student body, for your fine presentation concerning "The Intelligence Community Staff" given on April 6, 1982. The presentation contributed significantly toward the achievement of our educational objectives in the National Senior Intelligence Program.

Your lecture was extremely interesting and informative. It gave our students an excellent insight into the background and structure of the Intelligence Community's support organization.

Your thorough knowledge of the subject and capable delivery made this presentation a valuable contribution to the Course. Students especially appreciated the time allotted to answering their questions.

Your interest and willingness to support our program have contributed significantly to our teaching mission. We are deeply grateful for your continued generous support of the Defense Intelligence School.

Sincerely,

L. D. BADGETT
Colonel, USAF
Commandant
